Education of young people in the spirit of patriotism is an issue that will never lose its relevance and importance for all of us. This actual issue is a continuous process, which consists of a complex of interrelated political-legal, socio-economic, ideological-ideological, cultural-educational events. Today, the work of educating young people in the spirit of military patriotism is carried out in accordance with the Constitution and laws of the Republic of Uzbekistan, decisions of the chambers of the Oliy Majlis of the Republic of Uzbekistan, decrees and decisions of the President of the Republic of Uzbekistan, decisions and orders of the Cabinet of Ministers, general military regulations of the Armed Forces and other legal documents. It is clear to all of us that military-patriotic education is a component of general education, aimed at forming the readiness and ability to selflessly defend the Motherland in young people. Its spiritual-educational and theoretical basis is the conclusions of modern relevant scientific fields about the protection of the Motherland, the historical and modern practical experience of our people about the Motherland and its protection, scientific heritage, and universal human values and modern requirements related to this issue. Military-patriotic education is a component of general education. The basis of military-patriotic education is patriotic education. Accordingly, military-patriotic education is based on patriotic education, which is an integral part of all education, knowledge, faith, and worldview of every citizen and growing or generation from the smallest youth. The concept of patriotic education has a broader meaning than the concepts of military-patriotic education and education. One of the main goals should be to strengthen the ideological immunity of young people, to protect them from various foreign ideas and threats, and to educate them as independent, selfless, selfless and patriotic people. As stated by Shavkat Mirziyoyev, Supreme Commander-in-Chief of the Republic of Uzbekistan, "education and education cannot be separated from each other, these two processes are harmonious, organized on a continuous basis, polite, highly moral, at the same time, knowledgeable, intelligent, mentally and physically healthy, broad worldview. , cultivates patriotic young people with thinking and modern professions. As a result of the increase of patriotic and devoted people in the society, fundamentally positive changes occur in spiritual and educational life and in other aspects. The theoretical foundations of subjects taught in primary education, knowledge of the concept of primary education, general scientific methods, methods of teaching mother tongue, mathematics, labor, natural sciences in the primary grade, as well as methods of organizing educational work for those entering the master's degree in the specialty "Theory and Methodology of Education and Training" , designed to determine the abilities to carry out scientific research. The purpose of the program is to determine whether those entering the master's degree have mastered the theory of scientific knowledge, didactic principles and methods of teaching in primary education, which are necessary for researching the scientific-methodical problems of teaching in primary education at the undergraduate level. In addition, master's students are taught the theoretical foundations of the subjects taught in primary education, the concept of primary education, general scientific methods, the teaching of mother tongue, mathematics, labor, natural sciences in the primary class, as well as ways of organizing educational work, methods and principles of conducting scientific research. determining the level of mastery and application skills. The current process of globalization is to educate young people in the spirit of military patriotism requires effective use of traditional and modern methods. These are the following consists of methods.

1. Method of promotion. Educational and moral content of patriotism and in this regard the scientific-theoretical basis of the processes carried out in our country, their is to perfectly reveal new aspects. Hence military patriotism to explain his feelings to young people in a simple and concise way, to introduce them to a new life and time to active and enthusiastic participants in the construction of a society that meets its requirements consists of turning.

2. Community method. Today, the general combat of our Armed Forces readiness with the level of combat readiness of units, formations, parts and units is determined. Military units operate strictly according to their internal structure general obligations of military personnel, representing a defined social group and service relations between them, internal procedures, officials obligations, daily and household conditions, employment of military personnel placement, issues of conducting internal service Discipline and Internal Service. It is strictly defined in the main cases of the statutes.

3. Traditional method. Military tradition The process of military service in the army is combat performance of tasks, training of personnel, diary of military personnel an idea, rule, custom related to life, historically formed, passed from generation to generation it is manifested in the norms of behavior. It should be noted that strengthening the sense of belonging to the Motherland in young people, forming feelings of love and protection of the country has become a moral need. Today it is at the center of state policy. This need is a spiritual and moral heritage It is evident that satisfaction with the means gives an effective result According to President Sh.M. Mirziyoev, patriotism is our people is one of the eternal values. He is kind, care for the fate of the Motherland, concern and it is among the moral virtues such as compassion for disasters. Especially military patriotism is a special and inseparable type of universal, national patriotism is a fragment. Instilling the ideas of military patriotism into the hearts of young people Uzbekistan. It becomes even more important in the state policy of the Republic. Young people are the future of our country and nation. As we entrust the fate of our country to them, first of all they should fully understand the complex and responsible task assigned to them, and contribute to it. After all, love for the Motherland and love for it are directly determined by the creative work that everyone does for the development of this country. In the development of national identity awareness, education of deep-thinking young people imbued with national patriotic ideas is of great importance. Therefore, each of our young people who are preparing for the defense of the Motherland must be educated in the spirit of high patriotism. Patriotism is a high human virtue. Patriotism is one of the brightest aspects of perfection. It means that political, ideological, religious, aesthetic and other types of education are one of the most urgent tasks in every Uzbekistan to ensure the inviolability of the country's borders, along with the formation of a mature generation of a new society, high spiritual and political qualities. One of the main tasks of our state is to form a permanent readiness to resist any aggression in the human mind with the help of methods and forms of military patriotism education, to educate in the spirit of personal responsibility for the protection of the Motherland. Military psychology, which studies the psychological activity of cognition in the conditions of military service in peaceful and combat situations, is also important for the organization of military patriotism education. Military psychology develops practical recommendations for the psychological preparation of young people to perform their duty for the defense of our country. Psychological science helps to better understand the proper organization of military patriotism education with people who differ from each other in terms of personality, inner spiritual world, behavioral factors, characteristics, and interests. Educators' good knowledge of psychological science will help them to successfully solve the issues of professional selection and preparation of high school students to enter military schools and serve in various activities and in the Armed Forces of the Republic of Uzbekistan.
